

Luck

The sayings true: “Some folks have all the luck”. But what kind?... Good luck or Bad? Take Job, the Lord let that old devil run all through his business, his family, his livestock and his friends. Luck? Good or Bad? (he asks)

I wouldn't call it either. God purposed it, though. Purposed it for His Good Work.

whether it benefited Job or maybe somebody on the other side of the world...

The good book says all is done for the Glory of God and it benefitted His divine purpose. ...

You know you hear about a terrible earthquake on the other side of the world (motioning to one side) that causes a wave of water to wash up on a drought ridden land over here... or a wall of rocks falling high atop a mountain pulling down a whole village with it only to dam up a flood raged little town below it ...we just can't understand it. Can we?
